

Dr. Ethan Becker

ABOUT

As President of The Speech Improvement Company, Ethan is a second-generation speech coach and trainer. While he's worked with business partners all over the United States, he also has unique international experience. He has developed powerful, customized motivational training programs on communication and delivered them worldwide. Ethan's experiences have provided him with a valuable cultural perspective that he brings to his clients.

Co-Author of the international best-selling business book "Mastering Communication at Work, how to lead, manage, and influence" published by McGraw-Hill. Learn how Harvard University, The White House, Google, TED talks, and more master communication.

CLICK HERE to Watch Dr. Becker's Commencement Speech at FSU

FULL BIO

Ethan comes from a long line of educators. His great-grandfather and both of his parents were both influential in the field of education. And, he became President of The Speech Improvement Company in 2006 to carry the family business into the next generation.

While he's worked with business partners all over the United States, he also has unique international experiences. Ethan lived in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, where he immersed himself in the Asian culture, conducting research, training. In addition, he coached and presented in countries such as Ireland, Germany, England, Japan, Australia, Singapore, Indonesia, Thailand, China, and Korea.

Ethan employs a patient and precise one-on-one coaching style, which compliments his motivational group training technique. He brings unique expertise to many topics, including executive communication, leadership and management communication, presentation skills, motivational speaking, persuasion, negotiation, dealing with conflict, and more.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Ethan did not go directly into the family business after graduation. He spent six years working in a high-tech organization, Media 100 Inc., which grew from $3 million in revenue to $80 million per year and from 30 to 300 employees during his time.

Ethan has taught at and helped such organizations such as Harvard University, Wentworth Institute of Technology, Apple, The New York Giants, Bain Capital, Canon USA, Biogen IDEC, Telekom Malaysia, Maybank, LogMeIn, Kenanga, AmBank, RAZAK School of Government, Tenaga Nasional Berhad, The FBI, CBT Architects, Build Boston, Northeast Human Resources Association, Aspentech, Kronos, SuriaKLCC, and IBM, as well as countless individual executives, managers, politicians, governments, celebrities and other clients from around the world.